

Pig Personality Profile

First, draw a pig on a piece of paper.

Then use the following information to interpret the meaning of your pig. Let's see how accurate this interpretation is of how others see you and how you see yourself!

- If the pig is drawn towards the top of the paper, you are perceived as a positive and optimistic person by others.
- If the pig is drawn towards the middle of the page, you are perceived as a realist.
- If the pig is drawn towards the bottom of the page, you are perceived as a pessimistic person and have the tendency to behave negatively under pressure.
- If the pig is facing to the left, you believe in tradition, are friendly, and remember dates and birthdays.
- If the pig is facing forward (towards you), you are a direct person, neither fear nor avoid discussion, and enjoy "stirring the pot" to promote change.
- If the pig is facing to the right, you are innovative, creative and active; you have a poor memory of dates and birthdays.
- If the pig is drawn with many details, you see yourself as analytical and cautious. Others must work hard to earn your trust and to keep it.
- If the pig is drawn with few details, you are a risk-taker, wear your emotions on your sleeve, and care little for the details in life.
- If the pig is drawn with four (4) legs showing, you are secure, stick to your beliefs, and have been told at least once in your life that you are stubborn.
- If the pig is drawn with less than four (4) legs showing, you are going through a period of major change in your life.
- The larger the pig's ears you have drawn, the better listener you are.
- The longer the pig's tail that you have drawn (including loops), the more satisfied you are with the quality of your personal relationships.
