

The Candy Game - Answers

This exercise does not measure your intelligence, your fluency with words, or your mathematical ability.

It can, however, give you a gauge of your mental flexibility and creativity.

Use this activity as a team-building exercise by having your employees work in teams. Give all teams a minute and a half to complete the exercise with as many answers as possible.

Directions: Examine each of the following clues and identify each type of candy being described.

Example: Home run champ = Baby Ruth

Galaxy =	Milky Way
What bees make =	Bit-o-Honey
The guy every woman wants =	Big Hunk or Sugar Daddy
Road in New York City =	5th Avenue
Two female pronouns =	Hersey
A sweet, affectionate action =	Kisses or Hugs
Indian burial grounds =	Mounds
Feline (young & old) =	Kit-Kat
Galactic explosion =	Starburst
Noisy bite =	Crunch or Crackle
Famous author =	O' Henry
Other name for Superman =	Clark Bar
Double letters =	M&Ms or Butterfinger BBs
Special day for working people =	Payday
City in England =	York or Heath or Cadbury